For offences committed on or after 3 December 2012

This handout tells you about the Foreign Travel Prohibition Requirement that the court has decided you must follow as part of your sentence. You might also be given other handouts to help explain any other Requirement or Requirements the court has decided you must do.

Foreign Travel Prohibition Requirement

The court has decided that you must be subject to a Foreign Travel Prohibition Requirement.

Depending on the terms of the Court Order, it can:

- Stop you from travelling to named countries,
- Stop foreign travel except to certain places, or
- Stop foreign travel completely, so you will not be able to leave the British Isles.

This requirement cannot last for longer than 12 months.

Foreign travel prohibition under a Foreign Travel Prohibition Requirement is an Order of the court and you must co-operate with it.

If you need help or advice about anything to do with your sentence, you can always talk to your Offender Manager.
